HUNG AFTER A RIOT

An Excited Mob Creates a Riot at Nashville, Tenn

BREAKING INTO THE JAIL

They Succeeded After Many Trials in Securing a Negro Brute Whom They Lynched on a Tree.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 30.—Shortly after 1 o'clock a. m. a mob composed of 100 men who had gathered in the vicinity of the jail made a rush for the front entrance, and in a short time the barred gate on the outside of the building was shattered down. They calmly announced that they wanted and intended to have the three negroes charged with complicity in the assault on the Misses Bruce at Goodlettsville Thursday.

Entering the corridor of the jail they were confronted by leveled revolvers in the hands of deputy sheriffs and policemen, who ordered them to halt. The mob, which expected resistance, appeared to be determined and demanded the keys. The sheriff refused to give them up and said he would protect the prisoners.

The Mob Dispersed.
The sheriff in the meantime had communicated with the governor and that official hurriedly repaired to the jail. He attempted to urge the mob to disperse, but his words were almost drowned by the yelling of the mob and the noise made by battering on the door. At 1:30 a. m. the riot signal was sounded and attracted a great crowd to the jail, and the local military companies were called out. The mob was forced to retire from the front portion of the jail building, but what seemed to be a regular force appeared on the scene and made a rush toward the door. All were armed, and matters began to look more serious, and several shots were fired. Finally the entire door of the city was called to the spot and succeeded in dispersing the mob before it had accomplished its purpose.

Another Attack.
At 2:30 o'clock the mob returned with renewed force and began battering down the front door of the jail with axes and clubs. The door in the office corner placed against the door as a barricade. Chief Clark summoned all his men to this door with orders to resist to the last. The door was finally shattered and driven in by the mob without, and with one great shout a rush was made for the entrance. The police fired and beat them back with their clubs.

Several Shots Fired.
This enraged the mob and a shot was fired from without. This was returned by officers at the door, and in return was followed by several from within. No one on the inside was hurt, though several shots grazed the cheeks of the officers at the door. For some time it was not known what the result had been in the three outside.

and to have a wound on the left temple. He was N. L. Guthrie and claimed to be a Nashville man. He died later on. Another of the rioters was wounded.

One of Them Hanged.
At 3 p. m. the mob again attacked the jail. The men met with virtually no interference from the officers, and experienced no difficulty in getting hold of Eph Grizzard, the imprisoned negro. They put a rope around his neck and started in a northeast direction with him. At the east end of the bridge across the Cumberland river, in the heart of the city, the mob halted and there hanged the negro, after which they rioted the body with bullets.

TO BUILD A TOWN.
The World's Fair Scheme of a Big Syndicate—Quarters for Visitors—Six Hundred Houses to Be Put Up Near the Park.
CHICAGO, April 30.—There are to be 600 houses erected in the vicinity of the world's fair grounds for the accommodation of visitors to Chicago in 1893. Col. Henry L. Turner, of this city, and a syndicate of eastern capitalists have just consummated the plan. The capital invested will exceed $1,000,000, a big deal in real estate is involved and a town of 600 houses is to be built in close proximity to the exposition grounds with a capacity of ten thousand people every day during the exposition. The location is the 16-acre tract bounded by Seventy-ninth and Eighty-third streets and Cottage Grove and South Park avenues. It is owned by Lucius G. Fisher and will be leased to the Park Columbia Company for a term of years, with the privilege of purchasing some time after the close of the fair. The rental could not be learned, but representatives of Mr. Fisher stated that the purchase price would be a round million.

AN EMBELLER.

The Clerk of Ford County, Ill., Is a Fugitive.
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., April 30.—The sheriff of Ford county was in this city Friday in search of Morten Dunlap, the county clerk of Ford county, who is charged with misappropriating the county funds. He has been wanted to this city, where he is supposed to be in hiding. The whole affair seems to be a pretty badly tangled one. Dunlap, for a period of twenty years, was a trusted county official, apparently a devout Christian. He became infatuated with that popular and always disastrous species of gambling, the board of trade. After exhausting his private resources and his credit he is said to have used the county funds as he did his own. It is not known what the deficit amounts to, but it is placed all the way from $10,000 to $25,000, and an investigation is now being made to see just how much of the county money has been squandered.

IN AND WOMAN FIGHT.

Mrs. Tracy Was Beaten for Mr. Stamp and Both Were Wounded.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 30.—Sidney G. Stamp and Mrs. Annie L. Tracy had a duel with pistols Friday afternoon. The woman has been acting as home keeper for about a year for Stamp, whose wife is in the insane asylum, but a week or two ago she left him and went elsewhere to live. On Thursday she took up her residence on Kenyon street and there Friday morning Stamp called on her, and after two hours' conversation he drew a revolver and fired. Mrs. Tracy, who had evidently expected the visit, also had a revolver, and the fight was kept up as long as either had strength. Both of the woman's hands are shattered by bullets and the man is injured in the face. Both will recover. Jealousy is assigned as the cause of the shooting.

FOUR MEN KILLED.

A Construction Train on the Great Northern Hit—One Man Missing.
BOZEMAN, Mont., April 30.—A construction train on the Great Northern was ditched near here at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Attached to the train were large boarding cars containing railroad laborers, four of whom were instantly killed. One man is missing and others are injured. Company surgeons were immediately sent to the scene of the wreck. The accident was caused by a pair of trucks jumping the track just ahead of the boarding cars.

A Youthful Murderer.

DENVER, Col., April 30.—A 15-year-old boy named Bremer, who has been carrying press reports for one of the morning papers, stabbed and instantly killed a boy named Steinmeyer, about his own age. Steinmeyer formerly carried reports for one of the papers and the cause of the quarrel dates back to that time. Bremer is a very wicked little fellow and has repeatedly attacked other boys with a long dirk which he always carried.

Awarded $2,000.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 30.—The widow of Eugene Burroughs, who was killed in a collision November 30, 1890, obtained on the second trial a verdict of $2,000 against the New York, Providence & Newtown Railway Company. At the first trial the jury awarded her $7,000, from which the railway company appealed.

Struggle of Two.

HARRISTON, Miss., April 30.—Coleman Blackburn, who was hanged here April 30, is said to be alive and at the home of a relative in Franklin county. After the execution he was pronounced dead by three physicians and his body was turned over to his relatives.

A City Purchases a Railroad.

RICHMOND, Va., April 30.—The Virginia & Carolina railroad was sold at public auction for the sum of $75,000. The city of Petersburg, which holds $100,000 worth of first mortgage bonds with about $50,000 interest was the purchaser.

Burned the Business Portion.

PAGE RIVER, Kan., April 30.—Fire destroyed half of the business portion of the city Friday morning. The loss is about $20,000, half covered by insurance.

To Be Hanged.

CHICAGO, April 30.—George H. Painter has been sentenced by Judge Clifford to be hung for the murder of his mistress, Alice Martin.

Burned to Death.

NOBLESVILLE, Mo., April 30.—George Stalla, living near here, was burned to death by an explosion of natural gas.

An incendiary fire burned the principal business houses in Tulsa, Okla.

REVENGE OF A BOY

His Father Punishes Him and Loses His Life Therefor

WHY HE KILLED HIM EXPLAINED

The Confession of Andrew Taylor, a 13-Year-Old Parricide, at Geneseo, Ill., His Crafty Plan.

GENESEO, Ill., April 30.—Andrew Taylor, the 13-year-old self-confessed murderer, has made a statement in writing in which he confesses the murder of his father and gives his motives. In substance they are as follows: He and his father were hauling hay on the day of the murder. Because the boy did not work just to suit his father the latter grabbed hold of him, and in so doing he felt what he took to be a plug of chewing tobacco in the boy's pocket. He reached into the pocket and drew forth the tobacco. The boy claimed he did not know how it came there, but his father took him into the barn and whipped him with a strap. Later in the day Mr. Taylor told his son to pitch some hay on to the wagon, and the boy, moving slowly, started to obey. But his father wanted him to hurry up and prodded him with a pitchfork. Andrew began to cry and his father ridiculed him. Being of a revengeful disposition Andrew resolved then and there to kill his father.

Planning His Crime.

In contemplating the murder he says he first thought of a large steel trap on the place, and thought he would catch his father in that and then kill him. But was afraid this would be unsuccessful. His next plan was to carry a heavy oak post into the hay loft and drop it on to his father. But he changed his mind again and resorted to the shotgun. He loaded it with bullets and hid in the barn. His father came in with a horse, and was just about to tie the animal, when Andrew fired, killing him instantly.

FATAL FIRE IN HAVANA.

Three Men Perish in the Flames—Several Persons Receive Serious Injuries.
HAVANA, April 30.—A fire occurred Friday in the store of Francisco Garcia, and the building was partially destroyed. The flames spread to an adjacent store devoted to the same line of business, and this, too, was partially consumed. Several firemen were injured during the progress of the fire. After the flames were extinguished it was found that Garcia, his partner, and another man had perished.

Crushed by His Horse.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., April 30.—Dwight T. Carroll, 36 years old, instructor in physics in Lehigh university, has been taken to his home in Wallingford, Conn., he being insane. Carroll was surprised by the students at their musical performance, which he attended. He left the house at the time, and the affair so preyed upon his mind that he became a monomaniac on the subject.
